PARNELLITES CARRY WATERFORD CITY BY A LARGE MAJORITY.

Almost a Riot Provoked by Mr. Davitt-A Very Careless Handling of Drawn Swords.

LONDON, December 24 .- The Times's corspondent at Waterford says that at the lose of the polling yesterday both Mr. Michael Davitt and Mr. William O'Brien spoke hopefully of the prospects of a Mc-Mrs. Nannie Orme, who was taken to the Carthyite success. They said they feared all from the city almshouse about a year that the intimidation employed by their opponents had thrown the seat into the hands of the Parnellites.

MR. REDMOND ELECTED. Mr. Redmond is highly elated by his success. He has been the recipient of many congratulatory telegrams from his friends, who are overloyed at what they claim is a vindication of the Parnellite policy.

Owing to the great excitement that pre-vailed in the room in which the votes were counted, the first figures amounced nicce, Miss Blanche Tyree, to Mr. Wilkins, of that city.

An official recoun shows that instead of 1,725 votes Mr. Red ALMOST A FIGHT.

This remark provokad a most uproarious outburst of protest from the Parnellites, and for a time it looked as though the official canvass would end in a free fight. Mr. Redmond's supporters were fairly wild with indignation at what they deemed an insult upon their leader and upon themselves. They yelled and hooted at Mr. Davitt, and some of the more hot-headed shook their fists in his face and threatened him with all sorts of dire punishment. Amid the noise and confusion could be heard cries of "Shame," and "Coward," and for a time the position of the defeated candidate was very precarious. The uproar continued for several minutes, and a general riot was imminent when the police intervened, and by threats and a free use of process for succeeded in restoring something like or-der. The feelings of the Parnellites were very bitter, and when Mr. Davitt withdrew from the counting-room, he was escorted to his home by a number of police. It was a wise precaution, for had he attempted the journey alone there is no teiling what the consequence might have been.

PARNELLITE EXCITEMENT. The news of the extent of the Parnellite victory had spread throughout the city and the streets were filled with people who were absolutely wild with the excitement of success. The crowds formed in line and paraded up and down the thoroughfares, relieving themselves by uttering wild huzzas and in other ways showing their full appreciation of the political chastisaries of they had infleted upon their chastisement they had inflicted upon their

In London it is more dense to-day than at any previous time. It has caused incalculable cast to every kind of husiness and espectators. don it is more dense to-day than at any previous time. It has caused incalculable oss to every kind of business, and especially to those trades which are at their best in the holiday season. From the number of bodies found drowned in the London waters it appears that many people have lost their way in the fog and walked off the docks and into the causls and ponds. Seven bodies have been taken out of the Thames to-day. Accidental deaths on railways and upon the ordinary roadways have also increased to a remarkable degree. As an illustration of how business is effected by the weather conditions prevailing the opening of the Stock Exchange was greatly delayed this morning, owing to the density of the fog, which filled the rooms.

LONDON, December 24.—Advices recieved from points in the eastern part of England show that fog is prevalent along the whole length of the east coast. The captains of many vessels thought the safer course would be to make for some haven of retage, there to lie until the fog lifted, but they found the greatest difficulty in making their ports.

The fog, as is well known, causes the ice to become rot-ten very rapidly, and the result has been that many skaters have broken through and been drowned.

THE FAMINE IN RUSSIA. specimen Corruption with Respect to Relief Measures-More Hopefulness.

[By Anglo-American cable to the Dispatch.] London, December 24.—A letter has been received in this city from Moscow, which declares that when the governors of the famine-stricken provinces submitted the famine-stricken provinces submitted the most gloomy reports to the central famine committee as to the condition of affairs in those provinces the committee refused to allow the reports to be sent to the Czar, and insisted that they should be modified before his Majesty was allowed to see them. Acting under instructions, when the governors were given an audience by the Czar they told him that matters in their respective provinces were satisfacthe Czar they told min that matters their respective provinces were satisfactory, and that the situation was improving. convicts instrato of the needy employed.

St. Perensugg, December 24.—It was reported some time since that the Government intended to employ thousands of the infiabitants of the famine-stricken provinces in the work of constructing the Transsiberian railway, which is to connect Vladivostock, the Russian port on the Pacific, with European Russia. At present an enormous number of convicts are employed on the work. Despite the guards who are placed over these convicts they seem to be able to escape the vigilance of their keepers and to work their will upon the unoffending inhabitants of the country through which the line will pass.

Murders, mutilations, outrages of all sorts, and robbery are some of the crimes placed to the credit of these undesirable railroad laborers. So frequent have become the complaints against these men that it seems now as though the Government would be compelled to abandon the use of convicts in building the road.

THE POPE AND LABOR.

Proposed Development of Ideas Recently Expressed-A Church Crisis. [By Angle-American cable to the Dispatch.]

Rome, December 24.—The Pope has had several conferences with Signor Torniolo, professor of social science at the University of Piza, on the subject of founding an institute of economic science at Rome with a view to making it a centre for the propagation of the ideas developed in the recent Papal encyclical on the labor question. The agitation in France over the religious question occasions great anxiety at the Vatican. Cardinal Rampollar is in daily correspondence with the Paris Nuncio. The present crisis is considered to be one of the most critical periods in the reign of Leo XIII, as far as regards the position of the Roman Catholic Church in France. It is even affirmed that the Vatican is trying to influence Russia to put what pressure it can on the French Government, in order to persuade it to modify its attitude towards the Roman Church. The Pope is sad at the attacks made on the Roman Catholic Church by radical speakers during the debates in the French chamber.

New York, December 24.—The stock market completed a short but active week week and a strong tone throughout the list, with special buoyancy in a few stocks which were aided by special causes. The business was specially large in view of the fact that London had a holiday, but foreign houses were liberal buyers, especially Richmond and West Point, and while a great deal of the strength and activity was accredited in some quarters to the covering of shorts, there was no lack of buying by insiders in the more prominent shares. with a liberal sprinkling of outside busi-

In the early trading New York Central became a leader, its substantial upward movement, by which it attained the best prices reached on the present advance, being celebrated by further rumors in regard to the size of the extra dividender, pected on the stock next week. Following this lead came marked gams in Lackawanna, Northern Pacific preferred, Union Pacific, and Atchison. Among the inactive shares to come to the front were the lowa Central shares again, Oregon Short Line, Pittsburg and Western preferred, and Omaha, all of which made the most substantial gains on unusually large trans-NEW YORK CENTRAL A LEADER, ubstantial gains on unusually large trans-HEAVY BUYING OF RICHMOND AND WEST POINT.

The opening was rather tame at irregular changes from last night's prices, but the strength and activity in New York Central, in addition to the character of the buying, soon started the list on the upward march, and while the stocks mentioned came forward and retired in turn the strength of the market was never impaired for a moment, Realizations were still plentiful, but the demand was most urgent at all times and the afternoon saw none of the usual dulness in comparison with the business of the forenoon.
